

Names of New Zealand Chiefs Visiting England
The Daily Southern Cross 5 February 1863

The following gentlemen, Messrs W. Jenkins, Brent, Millner, Lightband, Lloyd and Wright, propose conveying the chiefs herein named to Europe, for the purpose of illustrating the manners and customs of the Maori people, in connection with a series of lectures to be delivered in the principle cities of the United Kingdom and the Continent. A chief feature in this undertaking, is to afford the chiefs an opportunity of visiting all the principal Dockyards, Arsenals, and Manufactories, &c., in the various cities proposed to be visited by the projectors of the scheme. The carrying out this project will necessarily involve a considerable outlay, which will be cheerfully sacrificed, should the proposed objects be obtained - the Maori chiefs intellectually and morally benefitted; but should any profits accrue from the undertaking, the natives engaged will participated in them.
