

Henry JENKINS

Family Search – International Genealogical Index

Alfred Vincent FULLJAMES born 17 May 1801 Otford, Kent, son of G. FULLJAMES and Elizabeth VINCENT

Baptism Register Bloomsbury St George, Camden, London

No. 1394 Alfred Smith Fulljames born 04 Nov 1823, baptised 22 Nov 1823, son of Alfred Vincent and Tamar Fulljames of Tottenham Court Road, St Giles in the Field, Linen-draper.

1851 Census 21 Bridewell Lane, Bath St Peter and St Paul, Somerset

Alfred V. FULLJAMES	Head	49yrs	Auctioneer	b Wrotham, Kent
Tamar FULLJAMES	Wife	48yrs		b Westminster?
Harriet GUILDFORD	Servt	17yrs	General servant	b Radstock, Somerset

1851 Census 9 Highbury Place, Lyncombe, Walcot, Somerset

Alfred Smith FULLJAMES	Head	27yrs	Cabinet maker	b London
Eliza FULLJAMES	Wife	26yrs		b Tiverton, Somerset
George Alfred FULLJAMES	Son	2yrs		b Bath, Somerset
Edward Vincent FULLJAMES	Son	8 months		b Bath, Somerset
Louisa BELL	Servt	12yrs	General servant	b Bath, Somerset

FreeBMD Marriage – December quarter 1853

Tamar FULLJAMES to Thomas ALLEN at Taunton, Somerset

Auckland Star 22 Dec 1875 Marriage

On December 21, at St Matthew's Church, Auckland, N Z, by the Rev. Mr. Hassard, George William Strong, of this city, to Emma Jane, second daughter of Mr A. T. Fulljames, Broker, Hobson-street, formerly of Bath, Somerset, England – Home papers please copy.

Auckland Star 25 Nov 1876 Birth

At Graham-street, Auckland, on the 24th instant, the wife of Mr George Strong of a son.

Auckland Star 04 Sep 1878 Birth

On the 29th August, at Aratapu, the wife of Mr George Strong of a son.

Auckland Star 19 Mar 1880 Birth

On March 15, at Aratapu, the wife of Mr George Strong, of a daughter, still born.

Auckland Star 16 Nov 1880 Fatal Accident in Northern Wairoa

[From our own correspondent] Te Kopuru, this day. A carpenter, named George Strong, employed at the Te Kopuru Sawmill, was accidentally killed at seven o'clock yesterday morning. An inquest is to be held.

Grey River Argus 18 Nov 1880 Auckland News

Auckland, November 16. An Onehunga carpenter, named George Strong, employed at the Tekopuri sawmills was accidentally killed.

Auckland Star 05 Jun 1884 Boy Lost

Superintendent Thomson is in receipt of the following telegram from Constable Nixon Scott:- "Frederick Strong, a boy of five years, was lost in the bush near Aratapu school yesterday. A large search party was out all last night and to-day. No trace of the child has been obtained yet."

Grey River Argus 06 Jun 1884 Lost in the Bush

Frederick Strong, aged five years, has been lost in the bush near Aratapu, and no trace was found after 48 hours' search.

Grey River Argus 07 Jun 1884 A Missing Child

The child Strong, missing at Aratapu was found by the search party drowned at the booms, Aratapu sawmill.

Poverty Bay Herald 07 Jun 1884

The child Strong, who was lost in the bush at Aratapu, was found by a search party drowned at Brown's Aratapu sawmills.

Auckland Star 07 Jun 1884 Death

On June 4th, drowned at Aratapu, Northern Wairoa, Frederick, younger son of the late G. Strong, grandson of Mr Fulljames, Hobson-street, and Mr Strong, of the Auckland Baths; aged 5 years. Thy will be done.

Auckland Star 12 Jan 1885 Birth

On the 7th inst., at Victoria street the wife of H. Jenkins of a daughter.

New Zealand Herald 30 Oct 1896

In our obituary column will be found recorded of a very old Auckland Colonist namely Mr George Strong, at the age of 71. He arrived in the ship "Anne" 1848 and subsequently served in the Pilot Service and Customs during the Maori War, served in the Auckland Coast Guards. Mr Strong was for many years a waterman at the old Wynyard Pier and was for 15 years caretaker of the City Saltwater Baths. He was a Freemason and belong to Ara Lodge. Deceased leaves a widow, one daughter and seven sons.

Hawera & Normanby Star 19 Oct 1901 Axeman's Association

A meeting of members of the Axeman's Association was held last evening... Mr H. Jenkins was appointed to take charge of the ring on the day of meeting.

Auckland Star 25 Mar 1903 Death

On March 21st, 1903, at her son's residence, Owen's Rd., Melrose, Devonport, after a long and painful illness, Eliza, the dearly beloved wife of Alfred Smith Fulljames, aged 79 years.

Evening Post 04 Aug 1911 Personal Matters

Another of New Zealand's earliest pioneers has just passed away at Auckland in the person of Mrs Margaret Strong. The deceased lady, who was 86 years of age, arrived in Auckland in the early 'forties. Her husband, whom she survived by about sixteen years, was an officer in the First Coast Guards, and saw troublous times in the Maori war.

Evening Post 12 Sep 1911 Personal Matters

An old identity of Auckland passed away last week in the person of Mr Alfred Smith Fulljames, who died suddenly at the residence of his son, Owen's-road, Devonport. Mr Fulljames arrived in New Zealand in 1859 by the ship 'Tornado', and resided in Auckland and Devonport up to the time of his death. He leaves a family of three sons and three daughters and a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

1911 Waitemata Electoral Roll

Maud Ellen Nicholson, married; Thomas Matthew Nicholson, engineer – both resident at North Head Road, Devonport

1914 Auckland West Electoral Roll

Maud Ellen Nicholson, spinster; Thomas Matthew Nicholson, marine engineer – both residing at 15 Islington road, Ponsonby

Evening Post 07 Sep 1925 Loss of Ripple – Officer's widow seeks compensation – Special Jury ordered

A request for the rescission of an order of Mr Justice Alpers, refusing a special jury in the case of the claim of Maud Ellen Nicholson, widow of Thomas Matthew Nicholson, for £1500 in respect of the death of her husband, who was lost in the steamer Ripple, of which he was chief officer, on 6th August 1924, was made to the Full Court, consisting of their Honours Mr Justice MacGregor and Ostler, this morning by Richardson and Co., Ltd. Mr G. G. Watson appeared for Richardson and Co., Ltd., and Mr P. J. O'Regan for Mrs Nicholson. His Honour Mr Justice MacGregor, granting the request on behalf of the Court, said that it seemed a case in which a special jury should be allowed. Action, or default of action, causing the husband's death was alleged. The boat was alleged to have been allowed to leave Wellington in circumstances which made it unsafe to leave the harbour in bad weather. "There is no allegation that the ship was overloaded," said his Honour, "but there are allegations in regard to the way in which the cargo was stowed, both below and on deck, that it caused a list, and that the deck cargo was shipped correct the list. There is also the suggestion that the ship should not have been allowed to leave the harbour in such heavy weather. Mr O'Regan says he will have to call waterside workers and the Government Meteorologist." His Honour Mr Justice Ostler agreed, remarking that the evidence would be of a highly technical nature.

Eltham Argus December 1927

A pretty wedding was solemnised at All Saint's Church this afternoon, by the Rev C. H. Isaacson, when Ada Belle Jenkins of Eltham was united in the bonds of matrimony to Reginald Charles Pearce, of Auckland, on 14 December 1927. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dainty period frock of shell pink satin beaute and georgette, trimmed with silver leaves and flowers and a large pink spray on the shoulder. She wore stockings to tone and silver shoes, while she carried a bouquet of carnations, sweet peas and maiden hair fern, with pink streamers. The bridesmaids, Misses Vera Sanderson and Evie Way, both of New Plymouth, wore turquoise blue georgette, trimmed with feathered taffeta and finished with a pink spray on the shoulder. The bridegroom was attended by Mr C. Carlson as best man and Mr R. Burke as groomsman. The reception was held at Mr Bocock's tearooms. Mrs Jenkins, mother of the bride received the guests in a frock of black silk marocain with oriental trimmings and a coat of black satin and a black crinoline had with satin ribbon and flowers. Mr and Mrs Pearce left by car on a tour of the North Island, and will reside in Auckland.

1928 Palmerston North Electoral Roll

Maude Ellen King, married; Robert Murray Rollo King, carpenter – both residing at P.W.D. Boundary road

1949 East Cape Electoral Roll

Maude Ellen King, housewife; Robert Murray Rollo King, carpenter – both residing at 65 Wi Pere St, Gisborne