

Wellington District Militia Ballot 1860

Wellington Independent 20 March 1860

The Militia was balloted for on Saturday. Two hundred men are required; but to make up for deaths and departures, three hundred names were drawn. Only the first available two hundred will be called upon for actual service. As the desire for information relative to the names drawn is very great, we publish the list kindly placed at our disposal by Adjutant Kirwan. The following is the copy of a circular now being issued, from which it will be seen that the first meet is to take place on Friday next.

On Her Majesty's Service, Wellington Barracks, March 17, 1860.

Your name having been drawn for actual service in the Militia, you are hereby commanded to attend on Friday, 23rd March, instant, at 12 o'clock, noon, at the lower Mount Cook Barracks.
